TRIPOLI
HIGH SCHOOL

WE THE CLASS OF 1960 HAVE TRIED TO GIVE A PICTORIAL ACCOUNT OF SCHOOL DAYS BEGINNING THROUGH THESE OPEN DOORS. THE SENIORS ARE DREAMING OF THE OPPORTUNITIES THAT WILL BE AVAILABLE IN THE FUTURE BEYOND THESE DOORS. THIS ALONE CHALLENGES US TO SET OUR GOALS HIGH, GRASP OPPORTUNITY, GIVE SERVICE, AND FACE LIFE WITH HEARTS FILLED WITH COURAGE AND HOPE.

SENIOR CLASS

SHARON BELCHER

What's the fun of fighting
if you can't make up.

GEORGE CLEMENTS

Oh yes, school--I do drop in occasionally.

JAMES CALHOUN

All wisdom does not come from books; why study and spoil your looks?

RONALD HEIKKINEN

Self-sacrifice enables us to sacrifice other people without blushing.

CATHERINE HOFFMAN

Always happy, always gay, seldom has a dull day.

KENNETH HOFFMAN

I never think of the future,
It comes soon enough.

FLORENCE JAHN

Florence is rather a quiet little lass; we hardly know she's in our class.

ARTHUR JOHNSON

Do unto others before they do unto you.

ERVIN KAESER

If you have a taste for luxury, eat a mink coat.

KAREN JOHNSON

She's no star in sports, but she sure shines at night.

DOROTHY KOSKI

I must be cruel, only to be kind.

FRANCIS LIND

There are two times in a man's life when he should not speculate;
when he can't afford it, and when he can.

MARION METSALA

I feel wonderful every morning until I wake up.

ELAINE MACKI

Charm strikes the sight, but merit wins the soul.

JAMES PALMQUIST

The world knows little of its greatest men.

JAMES METSALA

A leader of men, a follower of women.

RICHARD ROSENLOF

A good deed is better than a precious ointment. Why can't I find some?

BONNIE RANDERSON

A little nonsense now and then, is relished by the wisest men.

PATRICIA SAVOLA

Doing easily what others find difficult is talent; doing what is impossible for talent is genius.

LILLIAN SLOWIKOWSKI

If silence were golden, I'd be worth about two cents.

DARLENE SWENSON

Ask me no questions, and I'll tell you no fibs.

PATRICK TALBOT

Never speak sense when nonsense will serve the purpose as well.

AUDREY THORBUS

You're young only once but if you live right, once is enough.

JIM THORELL

Dangerous after midnight.

SHARON BELCHER

CLASS HISTORY

Once upon a long time ago, August 27, 1956 to be more specific, as twenty-eight lowly peasants, we made our way into the palace known as Tri-County High School. Later our number grew to twenty-nine. We had heard that the king was a tyrant. Of course we weren't afraid. At least not too much. Timidly, for the first week, we trod lightly through the halls of ivy. Then a decree was issued.

"Hear ye! Hear ye! Let it be known throughout the kingdom that all new members of my court must be initiated. I hereby decree that the courtiers of second degree will officiate at this event."

Now this had us going around in circles. What tortures would they conjure up? Would we be able to stand it? When the day of reckoning came, we were the laughing stock of the kingdom but did survive. And as should be, we gave a party in thanks for the kindness of our upper-classmen. Thus our first year as courtiers came to a happy climax. We were still alive!

We were somewhat more relaxed as our second year came around. During this year we lost six members of our party. They were Carol Belke, Tom Selover, Carol Newby, Sandra Stanley, Darold Hess, and Carl Hedman. Our two social events were a chance to initiate the lowly peasants who were following in our footsteps and to enjoy the party they gave in deep appreciation of the kindness shown them. We were in a quite dormant stage of education during this year. Great things were in store for the next year though.

Yes, great things were in store for our junior year in court. We became court jesters. We tried our hand at play-acting to amuse the royal court and the peasants. We were magnificent! Our little group decided on three plays: "High Window," a spine-tingling mystery; "No Time for Skirts," story of a tomboy turned girl; and "Shock of His Life," story of Pa Maxwell in his last days and how the rest of the family helped him believe this farce, were our masterpieces. Ah, yes! Life was so wonderful in days of yore.

Springtime came and filled our hearts with thoughts of the gaiety of nights in old Vienna. To bring the grandeur of Vienna life to the palace, we held a grand ball. The knights and their ladies came dressed in their finest array. Lovely! Every small effort was rewarded by the cultural addition to our life.

We couldn't stop with just one ball. The social season was at its height. The very next Saturday we had another. This time was more or less for continued absorption of culture. It worked. Our third year came to a climax. We weren't sad for we had been well rewarded for our efforts.

During the summer we kept the social circle in a slow swing. We had two balls. One was to celebrate the anniversary of our nation's independence and the other to welcome everyone back to the palace.

Now for the rude awakening. The last inevitable year was upon us. Soon we would be too old for life in its gayer form. We would have to leave our beloved palace. We had to have some tangible means to show we were growing up. A trip to Wausau remedied this situation. We had our pictures taken. Amazing how lovely and handsome everyone can seem in pictures.

Next came our command performance of Down to Earth, a light-hearted comedy. We enjoyed this task immensely. Two and a half angels came to earth to gather souls. Their mission was accomplished, but with many misadventures on the part of the half-angel and his beloved Diana.

We had to come to a decision because we needed capital to finance our class trip. We were permitted to go into the royal forest and harvest part of its crop. Our lords and ladies did a splendid job of working--we can go.

In the month of February, leap year of 1960, we gave a ball to celebrate St. Valentine's Day. To add dignity to this function we crowned four queens and their consorts. Each class brought forth a queen and she selected her consort.

Since we have a history, we must also have a future. The future holds for us a journey to a far-off land and graduation. On May 1 we shall depart in our caravan for our destination. During the course of a week we shall visit our nation's capital. On May 7 we shall return. May 18 is the date for our baccalaureate service. It is to be held in the Log Church.

The big step will be taken on the 20th day of May. We shall graduate and enter the world. That night we shall bid a fond farewell to our beloved palace of memories.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1960, being of sound mind and body do declare this to be our last will and testament.

I, Art Johnson, will all my ping-pong ability to Shirley Thorbus, my high grades to Darryl Pokela, and my '56 Chev to anyone who needs improvement in his grades.

I, Ervin Kaeser, will my non-conformity to those who like detention, my wasted time to those who want to go to college, and my skis to anyone who wants a broken neck.

I, Audrey Thorbus, will all my good luck to my sister Shirley, my four years of cheerleading to anyone with a lot of pep and spare time, and my position as Prom Queen to all future Prom Queens.

I, Dorothy Koski, will my French horn to the future horn players, my enjoyment for dancing to the boys of Tripoli High School, and my height to all short basketball players.

I, Elaine Macki, will the honor of being chosen DAR Candidate of my class to future senior girls, my position as Senior Class Secretary to anyone that likes to write letters, and my French horn to Mr. Beijer.

I, Sharon Belcher, will all my night life to anyone who can take it, my desk in the assembly to my brother George, and my time to Allen Cummings.

I, Karen Johnson, will my night life to John Knight, my fun in my last year of high school to Violet Weisinger, and my social problems book to Patrick Ahlborn.

I, Darlene Swenson, will my desk in the assembly to my sister Bonnie, my ability to get along with teachers to anyone who can't, and my 1958 Christmas vacation to Mr. Monroe Johnson.

I, Marion Metsala, will my musical ability to Tom Scheu, my good behavior to Tom Harding, my two flat feet to my dearest neighbor, Susan Heikkinen, my love to students who hate school, and my time to Jim Fisher.

I, Catherine Hoffman, will my sense of humor to my sister Mary, my ability to stay out of detention to my sister Jean, my dancing ability to some of the boys attending Tripoli High School, and all the fun I've had in school to the future students.

I, Kenneth Hoffman, will my books to any of next year's seniors who will take them, my desk by the window to anyone who wants to watch the cars go by, my mechanical drawing equipment to any person who likes to spend time drawing lines, and the rest is censored.

I, Pat Talbot, will my desk by the window to anyone who is cold-blooded, my books to anyone who feels the need of knowledge, and my night life to Delores Hebert.

I, Richard Rosenlof, will my ability to find out information to anyone who needs it, my trapping fever to Melvin Hauta, my night life to Mr. Monroe Johnson, and also my hot-rod model A coupe just in case his car does not start.

I, Lillian Slowikowski, will my seat by the window to anyone who likes to keep cool in the winter, my muscles to Dierdra Fisher, and my size to Mike Mesun.

I, Ronald Heikkinen, will my place around the training table to Dennis Johnson, my Ford to General Motors and my muscles to Charles Atlas.

I, Jim Metsala, will my basketball uniform to Bill Heikkinen, my height to my cousin John, and my banking experience to the future bankers of America.

I, James Palmquist, will my horse to Eddie Mason, my head skis to Darryl Pokela, and my Plymouth to Dick Wanie.

I, Florence Jahn, will my sewing skill to Delores Hebert and my attendance to all who miss a lot of school.

I, Bonnie Randerson, will all my fun that I have had to the future seniors of Tripoli, my geography book to persons who like to study, my days in detention to those who have never had the honor of being there, and my sense of humor to Mr. Monroe Johnson.

I, Patricia Savola, will my ability to stay out of detention to Clifton Schumann, my success in high school to my brother Mike, and my love to my dog Sam.

I, George Clements, will my books back to the teachers who gave them to me, and my days in detention to somebody who wants to eat late.

I, Francis Lind, will my hot-rod Chev to Gregory Powers, my night life to Billy Hoffman, and my school-life to anybody who wants it.

I, Jim Thorell, will my happy times to Mr. Donald Erpenbach, my beat-up 50 Chev to Violet Weisinger, and my extra year in school to everyone who needs credits.

CLASS PROPHECY

Once upon a time in the year of 1960, Cathy Hoffman went to interview the wicked queen. She was amazed at the future she foresaw for her subjects. Upon the wall hung a magic mirror through which the visions came. The queen fell into a trance; with a low weird voice she began to tell of the visions she could see.

Ronald Heikkinen is the principle of Tripoli High School. He is teaching a well-mannered group--an English class.

Art Johnson is a mad scientist experimenting with his diabolical compound. One of the monkeys is pulling on Art's ear.

Ervin Kaeser is a famous philanthropist, whose statue stands in front of Tripoli High School to commemorate his being the benefactor of this institution of learning. He made his millions by being the first man to land on the moon.

Lillian Slowikowski is the wife of the president of U. S. Steel. Today she is entertaining the royalty from Europe at a tea.

Maureen Elliott is a lion tamer who will provide the entertainment for the tea. She is the star attraction of the Big Top Circus.

Jim Metsala is the head of the Department of Subterranean Sanitation. He is the leader of the crew of men that cleans out the sewers.

Jim Palmquist is a termite inspector. His motto is, "If it crawls, I'll kill it." He is using one of Art Johnson's new discoveries, hexachlorifinoxide.

Bonnie Randerson is the president of a large Paris fashion house. It is known as the House of Randerson.

Florence Jahn is the most sought after model of fashion houses. She is more famous than movie stars.

Kenneth Hoffman is a ballet dancer. His version of Swan Lake is known all over the world.

Francis Lind is the singing idol of the nation. He has just recently been called to give a command performance before the crowned heads of Europe.

Cathy Hoffman is the agriculture and manual training teacher in an exclusive boys' school. She teaches many boys from the upper crust of society. They take these courses so they can manage the country estate for "Dear Old Dadsie and Momsie."

Marion Metsala is a contractor. She has many men working for her building bridges. She recently contracted to build the first city on the moon.

Patty Savola is a taxi driver in New York City. She doesn't have a driver's license but she doesn't care. She drives just as crazy as the rest of them.

Dorothy Koski is one of the nation's top police women. She has cracked more cases and heads wide open than any other officer on the beat.

Elaine Macki is a guard at Fort Knox. She is entrusted with the keys and combinations where the gold is kept.

George Clements is the head of our space program. He wants to send more rockets to Mars, but they are already sending them back until they have a parking place for them.

Karen Johnson is the dishwasher's assistant at the Waldorf Astoria. Her philosophy is, "At least I'm washing high-class dishes."

Darlene Swenson is the announcer for Goody Goo Dog Biscuits on T. V. She has to eat them to show her dog audience that they're good.

Sharon Belcher is the nation's top astronomer. The English translation is "star gazer." She has discovered several new constellations.

Audrey Thorbus is a beachcomber. She roams the shores of our oceans, looking for likely specimens of shells and things to sell.

Richard Rosenlof is a television performer. He has his own show sponsored by Goody Goo Dog Biscuits.

Jim Thorell and Pat Talbot are Fuller Brush salesmen. The right foot of each is generally in a cast because they follow the company's rule of putting their foot in the door to gain attention.

On October 16 and 22, the senior class play was presented. The chorus sang four songs. They were: "True Love," "You Always Hurt The One You Love," "Margie," and "Have I Told You Lately That I Love You."

The chorus and adults from the community sang at the exercises conducted for the dedication ceremonial of our gymnasium. It was dedicated to our late Superintendent of Schools, Victor Johnson. This group sang the song, "This Day We Honor," accompanied by the band under Mr. Beijer's direction.

On November 12, the girls' glee club, accompanied by Marion Metsala, sang for the junior class play production. The songs were: "You, You, You," "The Little White Cloud That Cried," "Oh My Pa Pa," and "Let's Take an Old Fashion Walk."

On December 17, the Christmas program of the grades and high school was given. The Christmas story was presented in music, song, reading, and tableau. The band played and the chorus sang Christmas carols. Marion Metsala and Susan Heikkinen sang the duet, "Star of the East." Judy Korpela accompanied them. Diane Wolter sang a solo part in one of the carols. This program was the result of much work by Mr. Beijer.

The Spring Concert was presented on April 11. The band played several selections and the girls' glee club sang. The girls wore their formals which added to the presentation.
